JCRC condemns suicide bombing in Eilat, urges continued quest for peace despite violence

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA – Michael Futterman, President of the San Francisco-based Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC), the community relations arm of the organized Jewish community in the Bay Area, issued the following statement denouncing today's suicide bombing in Eilat and extending condolences to the victims and their families:

"First and foremost, on behalf of the Jewish Community Relations Council, I would like to extend our heartfelt condolences to the victims of today's terrorist attack in Eilat and to their families. We pray for a full recovery for those injured in this heinous assault against civilians.

"The JCRC is outraged that this suicide bombing, the first in Israel in nine months, and the first ever in the normally tranquil city of Eilat, was praised by the Hamas-led Palestinian government. This palpably underscores that Hamas continues to be a terrorist organization, which supports the slaughter of innocents.

"We stand by the government of Israel and support its actions to keep Israeli citizens safe. We hope that in the midst of this violence, we do not lose sight of the urgent need to continue searching for peace."
